

A Plastic Pollution Nursery Rhyme

Katelyn Galloway

Whirly, twirly, blue and teal
Oily splotches, there's a seal
Laugh, play, swim, talk
Move, jump, build, walk
Toss, litter, but not recycle
Choke, kill, not the life cycle
Growing piles of garbage and kelp
Why doesn't somebody go and help?
Seagulls think "food!" then they die
People think it's perfect but that's a lie
Two hundred sixty-nine thousand tons,
We're making more, it's only begun.
Shopping bags, bottles, toothbrushes, boots
Action figures, bottle caps, and plastic fruits

5.25 trillion particles

Action now stop reading the articles

Who's going to step in and do what's right?

The one who gathers the people to fight?

Standing up equals movement, movement equals action

It all comes down to the chain reaction

It comes from land down to the Salish Sea

Look out you don't know where it's going to be

100 million marine mammal's dead

It's going to get worse so don't let it spread

Now you've been educated you know it's all true

What are we waiting for? It's up to me and you!
