

The Bobbit Worm

Alaisea Tutilau

This amazing worm can reach 12 feet, 12 feet,
12 feet I must repeat;
They don't have eyes,
Yes this comes as a surprise;
They sensor things through shadows,
And their prey meets its demise;
The Bobbitt worm lives in the sand,
And is known for being in the Philippines and never on land;
They don't have any gender,
But to me they look like tricky pretenders;
It will snatch you up in half a second,
By watching an ocean video, I surely learned my lesson!
